

Bibliography for 'Impassioned by their craft' - The French Conservatoire and the Foundations of the Modern Harp

Grimes, J. Scott. "Marcel Tournier: Musicien complet." American Harp Journal 10, no. 3 (1986): 3-15. (This article includes a good listing of Tournier's compositions and a list of the harp professors at the Paris Conservatoire from 1825; it features interviews with Gérard Devos, Jacqueline Borot, and Lucile Johnson Rosenbloom.)

Rensch, Roslyn, Harps and Harpists. Bloomington: Indiana University Press, 1989.

Swanson, Carl, trans. "Hasselmanns Remembered by his Students." American Harp Journal 9, no. 3 (1984): 10-15. (Interviews with S. de Chamberet, Lily Laskine, Micheline Kahn, and Pierre Jamet.)

Tournier, Marcel. The Harp: A History of the Harp throughout the World. Paris: Henry Lemoine, 1959.

Trezise, William. "Alphonse Hasselmanns: Postlude for an Era." American Harp Journal 1, no. 1 (1967): 5-7. (This includes listings of Hasselmanns' compositions and recordings of his works made by his students.)

Weidensaul, Jane. "Bochsa: A Biographical Sketch." American Harp Journal 2, no. 4 (1970): 4-7.